

Revenue Neutral Approach to Managing Carbon

Leveraging Energy to Sustain the Planet

November 7, 2013

Appetizers will be served Complimentary

Climate Change is no longer debatable – We need to reduce Carbon – NOW!
A refundable fee on Carbon provides a workable mechanism that is revenue neutral and it doesn't negatively impact low income families. The approach doesn't pick winners & losers and all technologies start on an equal basis.

Focus Areas

Overview
Specifics of Carbon Tax Proposal
Why We Need a Carbon Tax
Impact of a Carbon Tax on Business
Impact of a Carbon Tax on Policy
Personal Impact of a Carbon Tax
Discussion

Speakers

Beth Milham
Geoff Berg
Ed Dettman
Bob Morton
Stefan Wollenburg
Alisson Glassie
Beth Milham

What Can You Expect

- Outline of a Carbon Tax Proposal
- Reasons why another "tax" is a good idea and why it achieves its objectives without negatively impacting the economy
- Potential impacts resulting from application of a Carbon Tax
- Ways that you can help to get a Carbon Tax implemented

Location: Hanley's Ale House * 52 Pine Street * Providence Space is Limited

WHO SHOULD ATTEND: Owners of Businesses, Manufacturers, Owners of Expensive Space to Heat/Cool, People building or retrofitting, CFO's, Physical Plant Managers,

WHEN: Check In: 4:00 PM - 4:30 PM Program: 4:30 PM to 5:30 PM

Registration/Tickets: <http://reicarbon.eventbrite.com/> Fee: Cost of One Drink